
TERRORISM AND OTHER CRIME (FINANCIAL RESTRICTIONS) BILL 2014

Explanatory Memorandum

1. This Bill is promoted by the Department of Home Affairs.
2. It re-enacts with slight amendment the Terrorism (Finance) Act 2009 and certain provisions in the Anti-Terrorism and Crime Act 2003 together with the Terrorism Asset-Freezing etc. Act 2010 (Isle of Man) Order 2011 so that all the provisions concerned with controlling the financing of terrorism and related matters are brought together into one Act.

PART 1 - INTRODUCTORY

3. Clause 1 gives the resulting Act its short title and clause 2 provides for its commencement to be by a day or days appointed by the Department of Home Affairs.
4. Clause 3 contains the general interpretative provisions and longer definitions of “financial services” and resident” appear in clause 4 and clause 5 respectively.

PART 2 – FINANCIAL RESTRICTION ORDERS

5. This Part sets out the different types of order that may be made that restrict the use of finances, known collectively as “financial restriction orders”.
6. Division 1 is concerned with directions in respect of the financing of the development or production of nuclear, radiological, biological or chemical weapons (proliferation), terrorism or money laundering. These provisions largely repeat what was in the Terrorism (Finance) Act 2009.
7. Clause 6 sets out the power for the Treasury to give final directions if one or more of 3 conditions are satisfied and clause 7 is concerned with the power to give interim directions when only one of 2 less stringent conditions need to be satisfied. Clause 8 provides that the requirements that may be contained in directions are set out in Schedule 1.
8. Clause 9 sets out to whom a direction may be given. Clause 10 provides that directions that apply to some or all persons acting in certain regulated businesses must be contained in an order which, if it restricts business transactions, requires Tynwald approval to remain effective.
9. Clause 11 provides for specific directions given to a particular person to last, if not previously revoked and whether or not varied, for 1 year if final or 30 days if interim. Clause 12 requires the Treasury to publicise orders containing directions and for such orders (if not previously revoked and whether or not varied) to cease to have effect after a year.

10. Division 2 is about the freezing of assets. Sub-division 1 contains the general provisions about freezing of funds that were contained in the Anti-Terrorism and Crime Act 2003. Clause 13 contains general provisions about freezing orders and introduces Schedule 2 which sets out the requirements in more detail.
11. Clause 14 sets out the power to make final freezing orders which depends on certain conditions there set out being satisfied. Clause 15 sets out less stringent conditions that need to be satisfied in order for an interim freezing order to be made. Under clause 16 an interim freezing order ceases after 30 days or on the making of a final freezing order, whichever is the earlier. A final freezing order lasts a year. Clause 17 provides for freezing orders to be made by order, for them to be laid before Tynwald and for such orders to cease to have effect if not approved.
12. Sub-division 2 is about the freezing of terrorist assets and is based on provisions of UK legislation extended to the Island by Order in Council. Clause 18 provides for the Treasury to make a final designation if the conditions of the clause are satisfied. Clause 19 makes provision for interim designations. Clause 20 is about notification, the steps needed to publicise designations and when disclosure may be restricted.
13. Clause 21 makes provision about expiry of final designations (after a year), their earlier renewal and notice on expiry. Clause 22 provides for interim designations to expire after 30 days or on the making of a final designation, whichever is the earlier, and includes notice provisions. Clause 23 provides for designations to be varied or revoked.
14. Division 3 is concerned with recognising financial restriction orders made by the Treasury in the United Kingdom. Clause 24 provides that UK measures that are equivalent to freezing orders or designations have effect in the Island as if made under Division 2. The fact that a measure has been made that is equivalent to a direction is to be taken as sufficient for the Treasury to form the same reasonable belief or suspicion that gave rise to the UK action, ie it provides grounds for a direction to be made here if Treasury so wishes though if the UK measure ceases to have effect the local direction will also cease to have effect.

PART 3 - ENFORCEMENT

15. Part 3 brings together provisions enabling enforcement of the various financial restriction orders dealt with in Part 2. Division 1 is about disclosure requirements. Clause 25 gives the Treasury power to require a person who is the subject of a financial restriction order to provide information about funds or economic resources held or disposed of or information about expenditure by, on behalf of or for the benefit of that person to facilitate enforcement of the Act. There are also powers to require information from licence holders (see under clause 51 below) and for more general enforcement information to be obtained from persons in or resident in the Island.

16. Clause 26 extends a notice given under clause 25 to include a requirement to produce documents. Clause 27 makes it an offence to fail to comply with the requirement for information or documents, to destroy, etc documents or otherwise to obstruct the Treasury in the exercise of its functions under the Act.
17. Clause 28 provides a power of entry into a financially restricted person's business premises to inspect them, observe the business activities, inspect documents and require an explanation of them. Clause 29 enables a justice of the peace to issue a warrant in circumstances where the powers previously mentioned would not be sufficient to secure a document.
18. Clause 30 places obligations on financial services institutions to report to the Treasury if during the course of carrying on a business it comes to light that a person is or is reasonably suspected of being a financially restricted person or has committed an offence under the Act. There are additional requirements if the person is a customer of the institution.
19. Clause 31 contains a general power for the Treasury to disclose information or evidence to officials and institutions in the Island or the British Islands or in certain circumstances to the United Nations. Clause 32 provides for disclosure to the British intelligence services. Clause 33 enables the Treasury to impose confidentiality requirements when it has informed only certain persons of a designation.
20. Clause 34 requires the Treasury to co-operate with local or international investigations concerning the funds, economic resources or financial transactions of a financially restricted person. Clause 35 provides that nothing done under this Division is to be treated as a breach of any restriction but also that the Division does not authorise a disclosure that contravenes the Data Protection Act 2002 or the Interception of Communications Act 1988 or information in the hands of a lawyer that is privileged.
21. Division 2 is concerned with civil penalties that may be imposed for breaches of directions. Clause 36 sets out the circumstances in which a penalty may be imposed. Clause 37 sets out the procedural requirements for the imposition of a penalty and clause 38 provides for an appeal.
22. Division 3 is concerned with offences. Sub-division 1 relates to offences in connection with directions. Clause 39 makes it an offence to contravene a requirement of a direction unless all reasonable steps have been taken to secure compliance. Clause 40 creates an offence in connection with circumventing the requirements of a direction. Clause 41 makes it an offence to provide false information in connection with the obtaining of a licence granting an exemption in respect of directions limiting or ceasing a business.
23. Sub-division 2 is about offences in connection with freezing orders. Clause 42 contains the offence of contravening a prohibition imposed by a freezing order or facilitating contravention by another person. Clause 43 creates a defence if the person proves that he or she didn't know and had no reason to suspect that the person receiving the funds was specified in a freezing order.

24. Sub-division 3 covers offences in connection with designations. Clause 44 prohibits the dealing with funds or economic resources owned, held or controlled by a person who is the subject of a designation. Clause 45 bans the making of funds or financial services available to such a person and clause 46 bans making them available for that person's benefit. Clause 47 prohibits making economic resources available to designated persons and clause 48 makes it an offence to make those resources available for the person's benefit. Clause 49 makes it an offence to participate intentionally in activities that aim to circumvent any of these prohibitions or to facilitate their contravention.
25. Clause 50 contains some exceptions to do with crediting frozen accounts and making payments consisting of social security benefits made to non-designated persons whether or not a designated person is the beneficiary. Clause 51 enables the Treasury to grant licences authorising activities that would otherwise be an offence under this sub-division and providing for offences of providing false information or documents to obtain a licence and failing to comply with licence conditions.
26. Clause 52 sets out the penalties for the offences under this sub-division.
27. Sub-division 4 contains some general provisions about offences. Clause 53 sets out the general provision about liability of officers of bodies corporate and partners in a partnership. Clause 54 provides for proceedings in the case of unincorporated associations and partnerships. Clause 55 enables offences to be committed under this Part outside the Island by residents and other persons and bodies in certain circumstances. Clause 56 provides a time limit for bringing summary proceedings.

PART 4 – SUPERVISION OF EXERCISE OF POWERS

28. Clause 57 enables persons affected by the actions of the Treasury under a UN Measure applied to the Island there set out or under Part 2 to apply to the High Court for the decision to be set aside. However this does not apply to a direction made in realisation of a UK measure under clause 24. There is power to amend the section by order so as to vary the applicable Measures. Clause 58 provides a right to apply to the court in respect of the exercise by the Treasury of its other functions under this Act.
29. Clause 59 applies the 3 following clauses in respect of applications under this Part, appeals from such applications and claims arising from a matter relating to such proceedings. Clause 60 gives a general power to make rules of court for the proceedings. Clause 61 enables rules of court to be made about disclosure of material by the Treasury. Clause 62 provides for the appointment of a special advocate where a party to proceedings and his or her legal representative are excluded from proceedings

PART 5 – SUPPLEMENTARY

30. Clause 63 enables the Treasury to delegate functions to any organisation in the Island responsible for the prevention of, and investigation into, financial crime and the financing of terrorism. Clause 64 makes provision about how notice may be given under the Act. Clause 65 requires the Treasury to report to Tynwald at the end of each year about the exercise of its functions or those delegated by it under the Act or to state that no such functions have been exercised.
31. Clause 66 contains a requirement for the relevant regulatory authority to monitor persons acting in the course of certain regulated businesses to ensure compliance with directions. Clause 67 requires the Treasury to assist bodies with drawing up guidance for the purposes of the Act.
32. Clause 68 requires the Department of Home Affairs to make codes for the prevention and detection of the financing of proliferation and terrorism. Clause 69 gives power to the Council of Ministers to apply to the Island Orders in Council made under the (UK) United Nations Act 1946 for the implementation of UN resolutions relating to international terrorism, conflict, crime against humanity and connected matters. Clause 70 applies the Act to the Crown.
33. Clause 71 introduces Schedule 3 which contains a number of amendments to the Anti-Terrorism and Crime Act 2003. This Schedule contains a large number of miscellaneous amendments, the most significant of which are modified search powers. Clause 72 makes amendments to the Proceeds of Crime Act 2008. Clause 73 introduces Schedule 4 which contains repeals and provides for the repeal of provisions of the Act that become spent after they have taken effect.
34. The Bill is not expected to have any significant effect on public revenue, expenditure or personnel.
35. In the opinion of the member moving the Bill its provisions are compatible with the Convention rights within the meaning of the Human Rights Act 2001.

 9 otherwise), the Treasury must take such steps as it considers appropriate
 10 to publicise that fact.

- 30 (2) For this purpose involvement in terrorist activity is any one or more of
- 31 the following —

34 (b) the Treasury considers that disclosure of the designation should 35 be restricted —

36 (i) in the interests of national security;

- 1 (ii) for reasons connected with the prevention or detection of
2 serious crime; or
3 (iii) in the interests of justice.
- 4 (4) If one or more of those conditions is met, the Treasury must inform only

18 effected by the United Kingdom Treasury is to be taken as sufficient for 19 the Treasury to form the same reasonable belief or suspicion that gave 20 rise to the effecting of the measure.
- 21 (3) If the measure mentioned in subsection (2) —
22 (a) is set aside (whether or not on appeal) following proceedings

29 contained in an order which was revoked in accordance with 30 paragraph 16(3) of Schedule 7 to that Act,
31 any direction made in reliance on that measure is treated as revoked on 32 the date that the decision to set aside takes effect or the measure ceases to 33 have effect or is revoked or the order containing the measure ceases to 34 have effect or is revoked, as the case may be.
- 35 (4) The Treasury may, by order, amend this section.
