EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order applies in Island law the Export Control (Iran Sanctions) (Amendment) Order 2013<sup>3</sup> (“the applied legislation”).

The applied legislation makes provision for the enforcement of new trade sanctions against Iran set out in Council Regulation (EU) No 1263/2012<sup>4</sup> which amends Regulation (EU) No 267/2012<sup>5</sup> concerning restrictive measures against Iran (the “Amending Iran Regulation”). It does so by amending the Export Control (Iran Sanctions) Order 2012<sup>6</sup> which makes provision for the enforcement of most of the current trade restrictions against Iran (The “Iran Order”).

The new measures include prohibitions on trade, technical assistance, financing, financial assistance or brokering on key naval equipment and technology, software for integrating industrial processes, graphite and certain specified raw or semi-finished metals and a ban on the trade of natural gas originating in Iran.

Article 2 of the applied legislation amends the Iran Order to make provision for offences and penalties for contravention of most of the additional trade sanctions specified by the Amending Iran Regulation. There are already enforcement provisions in relation to the new prohibitions on the importation and exportation of goods in sections 47, 69, 70, 178, 178A and 178B of the Customs and Excise Management Act 1986.
